DIRECTOR OF THE MINT

THE DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

WASHINGTON, D.C. 20220

August 7, 1969

Mr. Eric P. Newman
Numismatic Education Society
6450 Cecil Avenue
St. Louis, Missouri 63105

Dear Mr. Newman:

For the entire Mint Service, and for the public who will have the opportunity of viewing an extra special gold coin collection, I express deep appreciation for your generosity in sharing your treasures.

It is understood that your desire is for anonymity. Your wishes will be respected accordingly.

For the record, however, the gold coin exhibit will be accepted on a loan basis, with the understanding that whenever you desire the return of the coins, they shall be immediately dispatched to you, with proper security to insure their safe delivery.

The United States Mint at Philadelphia, upon receipt of the coins, will issue a formal receipt, covering a complete inventory of the coins. In turn, we will expect a formal acknowledgment from you, once the coins have been returned.

Sincerely,

Eva Adams
Director of the Mint

Miss Eva Adams, Director of the Mint
Department of the Treasury
Washington, D.C. 20220

Dear Miss Adams:

Thank you for your letter of August 7, 1969 with respect to our loan to the Treasury Department of coins in connection with the opening of the fourth United States Mint, in Philadelphia. We are glad to cooperate and will plan to leave the coins on exhibit for such length of time as seems satisfactory to both of us.

The loan exhibit will not be limited to gold coins as Mr. Charles Hoskins, who is preparing the exhibit, has indicated a desire to have many of the early copper and silver coins coined at the United States Mint.

We feel it would be advantageous to have the loan remain anonymous.

We plan to set up the exhibit on August 13 so that it will be available for the dedication.

Sincerely yours,

ERIC P. NEWMAN NUMISMATIC

Pursuant to a discussion with Charles Hoskins, the 1783 Nova Constellatio 100 mill piece and the 1792 Silver Center Cent were withdrawn from the exhibition for the opening of the United States Mint at 6 o'clock P.M. on Thursday, August 14, 1969, and returned by me to St. Louis. All other items in the loan list will remain on display for the benefit of the public.

The reason for the withdrawal of the two items mentioned above was that their importance was appreciated by the numismatists who attended the opening of the Mint, but that the extremely high value of these items would be an unnecessary risk to leave on an indefinite loan basis.

Dear Charles:

In accordance with our discussion, I believe you are planning to have a receipt issued by the Mint of the United States for the coins put on display by this organization. You have the list and you will recall that the first two items were withdrawn after the dedication day visitor period was over.

It was a pleasure to work with you.

Dear Eric:

Thank you for the reminder letter of August 21 concerning the copy of the Agreement. I am sorry to have taken so long to supply it, but you will find it enclosed.

You are welcome to show the contract to the Boatmen's Bank in St. Louis, but please do not give any indication of its source.

Thank you, too, for your letter in which you confirmed that the first two items on the list of material you placed on loan at the United States Mint, Philadelphia, were withdrawn after the dedication day visitor period was over. You cannot imagine how helpful your collection has been: Without it, the display of coins at the U. S. Mint would have been pitifully small. Everyone I talked to was highly impressed with the coins.

I cannot speak for the Philadelphia Mint, but judging from comments made to me by several Philadelphia Mint officials, they will be delighted to have the collection on loan as long as you care to leave it there. Arrangements have been initiated to obtain other coins to place in the exhibits after it becomes necessary for you to remove your loan collection, but those arrangements are far from complete, and conceivably might fall through.

When will you be in Detroit, again, Eric? We will be delighted to have you visit the museum whenever you are here . . . and there is a standing luncheon invitation, too.

With respect to the exhibit at the United States Mint you have set in motion, I hope, some acknowledgment on their behalf of the items which are on display. We were glad to be able to cooperate and will continue to do so if the Mint feels that the exhibit should continue. In case some of the items loaned by others are withdrawn we can even manage to fill in some additional exhibits if the plan is to have a nice exhibition there for quite a while.

I hope we can get together somewhere soon as our last occasion was one where both of us were working so steadily we barely had a chance to chat.

Continued good luck and success in your many activities.

Dear Eric:

Please forgive me for the delay in arranging for the Bureau of the Mint to provide a formal receipt for the items you have loaned to the Philadelphia Mint. For the delay is a result of a mistake I made a couple days after the dedication ceremonies.

You will recall that on Tuesday morning before the dedication, when you were installing your portion of the exhibits, you gave me a copy of the inventory list. On Saturday after the dedication, as I was attempting to close up my activities in Philadelphia and bring some sort of order out of the chaos which had developed in the preceding two weeks, I made a Xerox copy of your list, left it there and brought the original copy with me to Detroit.

Early in September I encountered the copy of the list which I had brought back, but since then have not been able to lay my hands on it. I called the Philadelphia Mint and asked them to send me another copy, but believe it or not, they can't find a copy either.

Because I know I have my copy of your list somewhere in Detroit...either at home or at the office...I have been putting off writing to you on a day by day basis expecting to lay my hands on the list at any time. To date I have not come across it again.

Last week I talked to Mike Iacocca of the Philadelphia Mint engraving staff who assisted in setting up the exhibits, and asked him to run a physical inventory of your portion of the exhibits and to send it to me. Now, if I may impose upon you again, I must ask you to send me a copy of the inventory list which you prepared before bringing the collection to Philadelphia. With both of those in hand, I can prepare the paper work which Mrs. Brooks will need in order for her to properly receipt for the material you have loaned to the mint. (Eric, now I suppose I will find my copy of the inventory before I receive a copy from you! That's the way the world works sometimes.)

As you know, Eric, I completed my official work for the Bureau of the Mint in August. Since that time I have remained in contact with the Philadelphia Mint people on a variety of matters. So you can feel free to call on me to assist you or coordinate with the Philadelphia Mint on any matters concerning your loan collection.

Dear Eric:

Two copies of the inventory of your collection now on exhibit in the Philadelphia Mint were received in the mail this morning. Sorry to put you to all this trouble, but this allows us to complete the paper work on this matter rapidly.

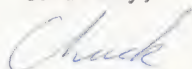

After receiving the inventory from you, I called Roy Cahoon in Washington, but he was not in and will return my call later. I have mailed one of the inventory lists to him and will ask him on the telephone to arrange for Mrs. Brooks to provide you with a formal loan receipt for the collection as rapidly as possible.

Yesterday afternoon I talked with Michael Iacocca, who told me that your collection remains on display in exactly the same position as you had originally placed it. Nothing has been changed.

Another copy of your inventory is being mailed to Mike Iacocca, c/o of Nicholas Theodore, Superintendent of the Mint. This will allow Mike to rapidly double-check the inventory list and advise Roy Cahoon that all the material listed thereon is presently at the mint.

There should be little further delay, Eric. Certainly you have waited long enough for this matter to be cleared up. Please drop the Money Museum the next time you are in Michigan.

OFFICE OF
DIRECTOR OF THE MINT

November 26, 1969

Mr. Eric P. Newman
6450 Cecil Avenue

Dear Mr. Newman:

Tens of thousands of visitors to the new United States Mint in Philadelphia have had the opportunity to see superb examples of the earliest coinage of the nation as a result of your generous loan of rare coins. While the Bureau of the Mint is endeavoring to arrange for an exhibit of choice U. S. coins on a more permanent basis, it was not possible to complete those arrangements prior to the dedication on August 14. Therefore, the material you made available has been exceptionally valuable to us.

This letter, with the attached inventory, is your receipt for the coins turned over to the United States Mint in Philadelphia on August 12, 1969. I understand that you informed Mr. Hoskins, our Consultant for public area development at that time, that the collection could be retained by the Philadelphia Mint for several months, and that you would give us reasonable advance notice when it becomes necessary for the loan collection to be returned to you. I trust that you will permit us to retain the collection into 1970 while we attempt to complete arrangements for a more permanent exhibit of United States coins as mentioned earlier in this letter.

Please let us know when you are next coming to Washington. We will be delighted to have you drop in.

Sincerely,

Mary Brooks

Dear Miss Brooks:

We hope that by now you are in the full swing of your new position and are accustomed to the enthusiasm and whims of numismatists.

Your nice letter of November 26, 1969 about our anonymous exhibit of coins at the Philadelphia Mint is at hand and we want you to know that there is no present need on our part to withdraw the collection at any particular time so long as it serves an educational purpose. We would be glad to furnish additional items if you feel it is desirable.

In your letter you mention that you are attempting to make arrangements for a more permanent exhibit and we would appreciate being advised as to your plans in that respect if you care to disclose them.

We appreciate your kindness in asking us to drop in to see you on the next visit to Washington. In the meantime, if there is any numismatic assistance which we can give you, please feel free to call on us.

Sincerely yours,

ERIC P. NEWMAN NUMISMATIC

Dear Eric:

Your comment in your most recent letter that "It would be wrong to remove the display unless the Smithsonian were ready to put in one of their own" is appreciated. I believe it would be wrong to let this information reach the Smithsonian, because it could delay the preparation of the Smithsonian collection. On the other hand, if there is a delay, I hope it will be alright with you if I inform the Bureau of the Mint people that you are willing to let your collection remain in the U. S. Mint, Philadelphia for a little longer.

I will keep you up to date on the negotiations with the Smithsonian. Nothing more has been heard since I last wrote to you.

I have been somewhat amazed at the flurry of literary and research activity which has recently cropped up on the 1804 dollar. I must admit that I have not been reading each of these articles in detail, but I assume that the matter will subside in two or three months, and at that time I'll spend a few days reading and analyzing each of the articles which have been printed. I would find it hard to believe that the work you shared with Ken Bressett in 1962 is substantially off the track in any area.

Cordially,

Dear Eric,

Thank you for writing concerning my new position at the U. S. Mint, Philadelphia. It is an exciting and rewarding experience.

Your collection was temporarily removed from the displays last Friday while the display case is relocated in the public areas. It will again be featured in about six to eight weeks.

Arrangements are continuing to obtain a permanent collection, but the matter is not yet fully resolved. Thank you for being so patient.

Please let me know when you will again be in Philadelphia. I look forward to meeting with you again.

Mr. Eric P. Newman

Dear Eric,

Thank you for writing to me in regard to the tarnishing which has taken place on many of the coins you placed on loan to the United States Mint for display purposes in August, 1969.

Your suggestion that the Mint ought to test the atmosphere in the lobby to determine what chemicals are there is well taken, and I talked to our Assaying Division people about that. I learned, however, that they do not have the necessary equipment to make such a test. We may be able to arrange for an outside firm to make such tests for us at a later date. In any case, if the chemicals are in the air, it would appear that nothing can be done about it. While special filtration systems might slightly reduce the chemical content in the air, I doubt that it could be reduced sufficiently to significantly retard the tarnishing.

You suggested that we remove from the display the 1793 uncirculated red cent, stating that the redness on that cent is essential to be preserved. I checked both our display and the inventory, and find no reference to the loan of such a piece. Perhaps you are referring to the 1793 half cent. I looked at that piece through the display case glass, and at that distance it did not appear to have any significant amount of red on it. As you know, Eric, I made color photographs of that display when it was first installed, so if there is any question in this regard perhaps the color slides will confirm the approximate color of the coin when it was delivered.

Keep Freedom in Your Future With U.S. Savings Bonds

II

If it is your intention to have us remove that half cent, and your reference to the large cent in your letter of December 29 is in error, please advise me and we will remove it immediately.

Negotiations with Dr. Clain-Stefanelli at the Smithsonian are progressing nicely now, and I anticipate that we will be able to obtain a type set of U.S. Coins within a reasonable period of time. A number of your coins are much too nice too have to suffer the oxidation which goes in the display cases, so I am most anxious to return the collections to you as soon as possible.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Chuck:

Please excuse the inconvenience of our not being able to know the difference between a cent and a half cent. It was the 1793 half cent, naturally, that I was referring to. It has some red, but not too much.

In view of the fact that you are going to obtain from Smithsonian a type set of United States coins within a reasonable period, there is no reason to remove the half cent from the display. Most of the coins have already stood the rigors of time for 150 years so another few months should not make any difference.

Please let us know whenever you have a replacement for the exhibit we have furnished and we will make appropriate arrangements for the return of the pieces.

I hope your work continues to be interesting and look forward to seeing you in the very near future.

Mr. Eric P. Newman
Eric P. Newman Numismatic
Education Society

St. Louis, Missouri 63105

Dear Eric:

Your letter of June 30 was received, and I am happy to submit a list of items which, if you can provide, will do much to enhance the U.S. Mint exhibit.

One display case, measuring on the inside approximately 70 inches long and 20 inches deep, will be used to feature the silver coins you provide. The display surface slants downwards slightly toward the viewer. The display is approximately six inches below the glass top, and it has a built-in lighting fixture. The panel is light blue.

Because the display theme, established by the Bureau of the Mint, is "Silver Coins", the following pieces are suggested:

- (1) Getz Washington Half Dollar
- (1) Silver center cent, 1792
- (1) Silver half disme, 1792 (we have yours)
- (1) Silver disme, 1792

In addition, the Director wishes for us to exhibit a "type set" of the silver issues of the U.S.. Because we have no specific directives in this area, I presume that we can be flexible. I would suggest an obverse-reverse type set, including three-cent pieces, half dimes, dimes, twenty cent pieces, quarter dollars, half dollars and silver dollars. While two pieces of each type would be desirable, I fully understand that, in the case of rare types, this would not be practical.

Keep Freedom in Your Future With U.S. Savings Bonds

Please do not concern yourself with minor varieties: the display space is limited, as you know. For example, two silver trimes of any type would be adequate. Arrows beside dates, added or removed mottoes etc., are unimportant for this display.

If possible, we would prefer to avoid taking coins from your present Philadelphia Mint display (with the exception of the half dime) for use in Washington, because visitors to the mint would not be able to see them for about two weeks.

Please send me a list of the individual coins, with a statement of the condition and declared value of each, so I can arrange for the insurance and develop the exhibit.

Arrangements for the physical delivery of the coins can be worked out on the telephone in the next ten days. I will call you.

Mr. Charles R. Hoskins
Public Information Officer
United States Mint

Philadelphia, Penna. 19106

Dear Charles:

In connection with the exhibit of the Mint of the United States to be set up in Washington, D. C., I would appreciate it if you would withdraw the thirteen items listed on the enclosed schedule from the material now at the Mint and use those for the Washington exhibit. These have been valued in accordance with the current Red Book so that the insurance policy you place on all of the Washington exhibit will cover them also.

A carbon copy of the letter sent to the Treasury Department accompanying the additional twenty-three coins to be used in the exhibit is enclosed herewith. The valuations have been placed on those items also.

The insurance should cover Eric P. Newman Numismatic Education Society and Eric P. Newman as interests may appear. We would appreciate carbon copies of the insurance coverage.

Any of the items which are used for the Washington exhibit may be transferred back to the Philadelphia Mint exhibit if that is desirable and, naturally, we can add others in due course. The only exception to the foregoing would be the silver center cent and the Washington President half dollar.

Naturally, we assume none of the coins will be cleaned.

Sincerely yours,

ERIC P. NEWMAN NUMISMATIC

Just a note to ask when the major items loaned for the Mint exhibit are going to be returned. There is no rush as I realize the Treasury Department, in Washington, has some of them and the Philadelphia Mint has others.

Kindest regards.

Dear Eric,

Thank you for writing with regard to the coins you have loaned us. But for the hectic pace of activities here, the coins would have already been back in your hands. I did take time to inventory them about three weeks ago, and all are accounted for. The pieces to be returned are in the Cashier's vault, Philadelphia Mint.

I will send you another letter in the immediate future to advise you of the date of shipment and other details.

Cordially,

Charles R. Hoskins

Dear Mr. Newman:

For more than two years the Bureau of the Mint has benefited from your gracious loans of numismatic material for exhibition at the Philadelphia Mint and at the Bureau of the Mint's exhibit at the American Numismatic Association in Washington, D. C.

I deeply appreciate your willingness to continue to loan to us most of that material for future display at the Philadelphia Mint.

It would be a pleasure to have you drop in at my office whenever you are in the Washington area.

Sincerely,

Mary Brooks
Director of the Mint

Dear Eric,

As discussed on the telephone, I am enclosing the list of valuations used for insurance purposes to cover all of your material presently in the Philadelphia Mint. The original copy of this list is being submitted to the insurance company.

If you wish to amend any of the values, please advise me.

Please note that, on your original inventory, you mention an 1803 $2.50 gold piece. Such coins were not issued. The coin in question is dated 1805, and has been valued accordingly.

Gentlemen:

When I visited the Mint recently we discussed the matter of withdrawing the coins which we have on exhibit.

You have a lovely group on exhibit at the present time and therefore do not need ours, too.

Many of ours are getting dark from the chemical atmosphere. Charles Hoskins had notified me of this condition previously.

I believe you wanted to retain the Dunlop newspaper containing the Mint advertisement for copper. I could also send you pictures published in 1852 of the Philadelphia Mint and its machinery.

You will recall that I explained that at any time you needed coins or other material for an exhibit we would be glad to furnish them but since you do not need the coins now, we can take back the coins and save you the cost of the insurance and see what your needs are in the future.

If there are any problems about the foregoing, please let me hear from you.

Sincerely yours,

EPN/atb

Dear Mr. Newman:

Thank you for your letter dated December 26, 1972, requesting the return of your collection of coins.

Attached is a complete list of exhibit material obtained from you and now being returned, this date, by armored car, with the exception of Dunlap's newspaper with U.S. Mint advertisement for copper. This paper is valued at $200.00, according to prior correspondence with you.

We want to thank you very much for the use of your collection. Mrs. Olga K. Melko, Visual Information Specialist, will keep in touch with you with regard to obtaining, on loan, any articles or pictures that you have available pertaining to the Mint.

Again, we thank you for your kindness.

Sincerely,

Nicholas G. Theodore
Superintendent

Gentlemen:

You have had on loan from me for a substantial period Dunlop's Newspaper of 1792 containing an advertisement seeking copper for coinage at the U. S. Mint. This item is on display on the balcony in the circular case. It is lit by some strong spotlights. Ultraviolet rays soon deteriorate paper at an enormous rate and I would very much appreciate it if you could find a ultraviolet ray shield and place that shield over the newspaper to protect it from further deterioration.

I visited the mint and saw it this week and hope that you can cooperate with me to solve the problem. The shield could be transparent if that is the best solution, otherwise it can be dark over all parts of the newspaper except the name and the Mint advertisement. Possibly the lights could be shielded.

Please let me hear from you as to what you do.

Sincerely,

Eric P. Newman

Dear Mr. Newman:

Enclosed is Dunlap's Newspaper of 1792 you so graciously loaned us. We wish to take this opportunity to express our sincere thanks for the loan of this newspaper.

Thousands of visitors to the Mint have enjoyed being transported into the past while reading this relic.

Thank you again for the loan of this most interesting specimen.

Sincerely,

Angela M. Zungolo
